

AMAZING PAIRI DAÏZA

That's it! We finally went to Pairi Daïza !

As soon as we entered the park, we were pleased by the beautiful environment: the clean flowered paths, the big beautiful buildings: pagodas, palaces. We felt as though if we were in another world in a complete disorientation!

The park is split into eight areas, so as to travel into the five continents. There is always a way to have an overview above the site. In "The city of Immortals", we went over there by a suspension bridge and could see all over the town, before visiting it from the ground.

In the Ganesh area, we could admire the whole town from the top of a temple.

At noon, we ate in a typical African brasserie and saw that the toilets had a matching decoration to the country! Every village is well represented with a lot of details.

Throughout the day, it's what impressed us, because everything has been done with care, down to the last detail.

- Otter -

- African village -

- Hippopotamus -

In each area, animals live in wide spaces, adapted to their way of life. The staffs are friendly and you can ask them when they come to feed the animals. The man who looks after the otters explained that otters are one of the five predators in the world, even if they look so harmless.

Asian elephants -

- Gorilla -

The highlight of the zoo is, of course, the pandas, but I preferred the elephants - they are seventeen, fifteen from Asia and three from Africa-; gorillas which are so impressive and majestic and orangutans, especially the baby which is so cute! There are more than five thousand animals in the park, four hundred and seventy species, in sixty five hectares.

By the way! I was surprised at seeing a lot of storks, almost more than in Alsace!

- Lemurs -

- baby orangutan -

At the end, we got on the train and saw the whole park and, and once more, the elephants, behind their palace. It was the opportunity to be sitting after a long day's walk. One thing is sure! I won't wait a long time before going back! I want to see it again and one day isn't enough to see everything!
